TAXICAB BRIBES TRACED TO THREE CITY OFFICIALS; NEW TRAIL OF GRAFT FOUND

Former Member of Aldermanic Committee Promises Startling Evidence of His Experiences.

THE INQUIRY DELAYED.

Citizens' Union to Produce the Results of Its Investigations During Last Year.

Actual grand jury investigation into the scandal which attended the holding up for a year and a half of Aldermanic action on the bill to reduce taxicab rates in Greater New York was deferred to-day until Monday.

Because of the continued presence before the Grand Jury of State Senator Stephen J. Stillwell, witnesses in the taxicab case could not be heard. All were subpoenaed to return at 11 o'clock Monday morning. It is anticipated that at least three public officials will be indicted as a result of inquiry, and many will be arrested.

The witnesses summoned to appear Monday before the Grand Jury were Jesse Judson, assistant treasurer of the Yellow Taxicab Company; Maxwell W.
Rhine, in charge of the billing department; Benjamin T. Schaeffer, credit man; John Clark, chief starter, and Charles From, a clerk in the bookkeeping department.

They brought with them, under subpoena duces tecum, all the records of the company, which show to whom credit was extended and all city officials who never paid their bills for taxi-rides. These records, it is said, will show that the company lost thousands of dollars each year by "extending credit" to city officials, none of whom ever paid for the cabs they used.

TAXICAB COMPANY TO AID THE INVESTIGATION.

George W. Whitehead, of No. 27 William street, an attorney who represents the Yellow Taxicab Company, declared to-day the company would do all in its power to assist the District Attorney in its investigation.

There was a complete reorganization of the company a year ago," he said, "and since that time there has been no act of the company that is not open to the closest scrutiny. We will aid Assistant District Attorney DuVivier in every way possible."

Mr. Whitehead said the records handed to-day to Mr. DuVivier contain the names of city officials who used "charge accounts" with the Yellow Taxicab Company and who never paid their bills.
The bills he said, were presented regularly to these officials at the first of each month—but, of course, were never paid.
Records of the courts, he said, show that no city official was ever sued on one of these accounts, though less fortunate riders who did not pay up were sued with due regularity.

Mr. Whitehead denied that he had drawn up any ordinance, raising taxicab rates.

NEW COURT HOUSE SITE APPRAISED AT $6,138,653

The condemnation commissioners named to appraise the value of the property to be taken for the new courthouse site in the new civic center reported their report to-day.

The commissioners place the value of the property at $6,138,653. The owners had testified that their property was worth $10,000,000. The city experts engaged irrespective of the commissioners had placed the value at $5,000,000.

The area to be taken represents 132,130 square feet, or about seventy-three city lots. It is now proposed to acquire more property for the civic center plan —about ten additional lots. Abram I.
Wilks, James J. Coogan and Henry Snyder were the commissioners whose report was filed to-day. Their report is regarded as a victory for the city, whose representatives protested against the owners' valuation.

SLAYER OF POLICE REPORTED CAUGHT FLEEING WITH PAL

Chief of Police of Rome, N. Y., Wires He Has Captured
Shieldiana.

Chief of Police Stephen H. Beckwith of Rome, N. Y., telegraphed to Deputy Commissioner Dougherty, to-day, that he had two New York Italians in custody, one of whom he thought was Orveto Shieldiana, the man believed to have murdered Policemen Heaney and Teare and John Rizzo last Saturday night.

Chief Beckwith said the two men calling themselves Bernie Levien and Laura Palma, had been taken from the back of a New York Central freight train. They admitted coming from this city and said they had left the night of May 6.

The man calling himself Levien seemed to Beckwith to resemble the photograph sent out by the New York police on the circular asking for the arrest of Shieldiana. Rome has no finger print expert, and the chief did not know how the finger prints on the circular compared with those of the prisoner, but said that otherwise the description was identical, even to the high, neatly and gray suit and the pocket-marked face.

Dougherty called the Rome chief on the long distance telephone and after Albany on other business, to go to Albany on another business, to go to Albany and take a look at the prisoner and also make finger prints of him.
Webster is not only a finger print expert, but has a slight acquaintance with Shieldiana.

On Dougherty's request the Rome chief arranged to have the two men held for ten days as vagrants to give the department here time to make a full investigation regarding them.

NO CURE FOUND FOR TUBERCULOSIS; HIT AT FRIEDMANN

National Association for Study of Malady so Declares After Hearing Report.

KEEP PRESENT METHODS.

Government Experts Say Observations Do Not Justify Confidence in New Remedy.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Immediately following an adverse report by Dr.
Joseph F. Anderson and Dr. A. M.
Stimson of the Public Health Service on the "cure" of Dr. F. F. Friedmann, presented to-day before the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, that body unanimously adopted a resolution declaring it to be the judgment of the association that "no specific cure for tuberculosis had yet been discovered to warrant the confidence of the public or the medical profession."

The resolution recommended to all that present methods of treatment be continued. Dr. Friedmann was not mentioned by name in the resolution.
The Public Health Service observations, so far, into the conditions of patients inoculated by Dr. Friedmann with his tuberculosis vaccine, were announced before the association by Dr. Anderson, director of the Government's hygienic laboratory, and Dr. Stimson, another public health surgeon, who were deputed to observe the progress of the Friedmann patients at Mount Sinai Hospital in New York.

"We believe that at the present time," says their report, "we are not as yet in position to express an opinion based on the present conditions under observation. The disease for which the remedy is used is prolonged and is characterized by periods of advancement and retrogression. It is also one in which psychic influences are a powerful factor. Time is therefore necessary to properly evaluate the effect of therapeutic measures."

NECESSARY TO GUARD AGAINST TOO GREAT AN OPTIMISM.

"We must not lose sight of the possible therapeutic value of this preparation, and on the other hand it is necessary to guard against too great an optimism in respect to its merits. Without presenting in detail the condition of patients under observation, we are in a position to state that the facts thus far observed do not justify that confidence in the remedy which has been inspired by widespread publicity."

"In our opinion harm may have been done by this undue publicity insofar as it has lessened the confidence of tuberculosis patients in well recognized methods of treatment or interrupted their course, and we are constrained to advise against any lessening of those well known measures which not only have effected cures but which have reduced the incidence of the disease."

"We are aware that Dr. Friedmann does not wish to be judged scientifically on newspaper statements and he would undoubtedly disclaim responsibility for certain of those which have appeared.
Nevertheless it is on those that the public bases its opinion until replaced by reliable and unbiased scientific pronouncements supported by convincing data."

"In our series of patients Dr. Fried-mann has almost exclusively made use of the intramuscular method alone in pulmonary cases, and a very considerable proportion of them have either developed no considerable infiltrate at all or have suffered from abscess formations. It is evident, therefore, that a very considerable portion of these patients may expect their treatment at the hand of Dr. Friedmann to extend over a long period."

"Concerning the cultures submitted to us we may state that a series of experiments is under way. The bacillus has been found to be an acid-fast organism having properties quite different from those of any tubercle bacillus with which we are acquainted."

STRIKING BARBERS PARADE AND CLOSE SHOPS ALONG LINE

Tom Sharkey Is Left in the Chair With Half a Shave.

The barbers' strike, which started in Brooklyn on Monday and closed 4,000 shops in that borough spread to Manhattan this afternoon when 3,000 striking barbers, bearing banners lettered in Italian, marched across Brooklyn Bridge behind a brass band to hold a mass meeting in Union Square. The heads of the Barbers' Union say they will have all the shops in Manhattan employing union labor closed up before next Monday unless the bosses grant demands for shorter hours and a day off every week.

From the Brooklyn Bridge the parade went uptown by way of Park Row and the Bowery. On the way delegations of striking barbers invaded open barber shops and closed hundreds of workmen.
The White Hat Barber Shop at No.
111 East Fourth street, next to Tammany Hall, was crowded with customers when the parade reached there at 4:30 o'clock. The band stopped in front of the shop and a couple of hundred striking barbers swarmed in and ordered the bachelors to quit. All the men at the chairs shed their white coats, donned their street clothes and joined the parade, leaving about twenty half-shaved men in the chairs.

Tom Sharkey was among those who were deserted in the midst of the operation of having their whiskers operated. One man who had accumulated half a hair cut protested mightily, but the barber who had been working on him paid no attention to his complaints and left him with part of his head clipped and the rest the same as it had been when he entered the shop.

Along Fourteenth street from Third avenue to Union Square, all barber shops were invaded. If the union insisted when the parade reached there at
striking barbers swarmed in and ordered
the bachelors to quit. All the men at the
chairs shed their white coats, donned
their street clothes and joined the
parade, leaving about twenty half-shaved
men in the chairs.

BILL TO REIMBURSE PEOPLE WHO RANSOMED MISS STONE.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Senator O'Gorman of New York this afternoon introduced a bill appropriating $50,000 to reimburse those who raised that sum in 1901 to ransom Miss Ellen M. Stone.

Six Lives Lost in Steamer Fire.

sons losing their lives.

WHAT'S A SKIPPER TO DO WHEN A LADY ELEPHANT GETS ON A WHISKEY JAG?

Amy Had a Terrible Time at Sea When Remorse
Seized Her.

Captain Kuhl, of the Hamburg-American live stock freighter Salamance, known in shipping circles as "Noah's Ark," brought a puzzling problem to port with him to-day. He put it this way:

"What is it that one should do when a lady elephant gets a jag on whiskey?" The captain's troubles began two days ago. Aside from a thousand monkeys, ring tailed lemurs, rhesus and just plain monkeys, a zebra, ten lions and eight tigers, the ship had no passengers except nineteen elephants and nineteen honeybees.

The honeybees are a capricious animal and a poor sailor. It refuses honey on shipboard and from morning until night utters the low plaintive note of its species which tends to keep the other critters awake and make them nervous.

Plans Tost, Karl Hansen's traveling animal nurse, who had the whole shipload in charge, has found how to keep the honeybees quiet. He mixes whiskey with boiled rice and keeps them drowsily lugged all the way across the Atlantic.

Day before yesterday, when he was mixing up their sleeping potion, or meal, he sat down a pannikin containing a gallon of whiskey beside the cages and went upstairs, as Secretary of the Navy Daniels might say, to get the rice.

Amy, the veteran of the elephant herd, who is destined for the Chicago Zoological Gardens, reached out a thieving and prehensile trunk and sucked up all the whiskey and let it run down her dry gullet. When Tost returned he knew the whiskey was gone; it was not until an hour later that he found out where, Amy was scandalous. She lifted her voice in a sob. She winked flirtatiously at the sobs. She threw a loose link of a hobble chain down into the hole among the monkeys. She indulged in loose and trivial songs.

The other animals went crazy, either with disgust or envy. Poor old Amy—she is only about 125 years old—couldn't sober up. She was wilder and more shameless every minute.

Tost would have liked to obey the captain's orders to keep her quiet, but he did not know how. And early today, when the exaltation at last passed from the big beast and she began to appreciate the inebriable visit of R. E. Morse, she could think of nothing better than to rig a hose to one of the ship's pumps to play cold salt water on her fevered brow. Amy was sleeping fitfully when the ship was warped into Bush's Stores.

William Curry, the animal specialist of the American Express Company, declared on hearing the story that the honey bears could yowl their fury heads off between here and the various Western cities to which he is shipping them, but they should have no whiskey.
He wants no four-legged jags on land in his charge.

BROKER SUES WIFE WHO ONCE DIVORCED HIM

Remarried Later It Is Now His Turn to Sue for Freedom.

John Boyd Gray, a wealthy young Broadway broker, whose wedding fifteen months ago was somewhat of a social event, began divorce proceedings in the Supreme Court to-day against his wife. The summons in his suit was filed in the County Clerk's office.

Judge Joseph H. Ball of No. 23 Broadway, Hoyt's attorney, declared nothing would be said of the case until such time as it came to trial. Mrs.
Justine Sutton Gray, the defendant, resides in a Riverside Drive apartment.
Since the Grays parted two months ago the husband has lived at a Fifth avenue club.

The Grays have been married twice and divorced once. Their first marriage took place in October, 1904, and Mrs.
Gray divorced her husband in Reno in Dec. 8, 1911. Before her return to New York her former husband wooed her again and they were married over again.

The couple lived together at No. 68 Riverside Drive until a month ago, when Mrs. Gray, returning unexpectedly from a trip to Bermuda, found her husband had been to London without telling her anything about it. The couple had a quarrel and Gray left their home. A week ago he got an injunction restraining his wife and her mother from moving any furniture from the apartment in Riverside Drive.

The injunction was vacated two days later. Yesterday Mrs. Gray got an injunction restraining her husband from interfering with her control of the property in the apartment. To-day's divorce suit was the next step.

Gray is a member of the Stock Exchange firm of Fuller & Gray at No. 71 Broadway.

China Accepts Five Power Loan.
PEKING, May 9.—The bankers representing the Five Powers—Great Britain, France, Germany, Russia and Japan —in connection with the loan of $25,000,000 to China were notified to-day by the Minister of Finance of China's final acceptance of the loan. The first advance will be made to-morrow.

FOUR POLICE PLOTTERS, "FINGER-PRINTED" AND CHAINED, GO TO PRISON

Sheriff Makes Trip to Penitentiary Spectacular by Waving Revolver and Ordering His Four Deputies to Guard Prisoners Closely.

ALL GET LIMIT SENTENCE, ONE YEAR AND $500 FINE.

Murtha Gets Short Respite to See Sick Children—All "Take Their Medicine" Without Confessing.

The four one-time Police Inspectors—Dennis Sweeney, James E.
Hussey, James F. Thompson and John J. Murtha—sentenced to-day by Supreme Court Justice Seabury to the maximum penalty, a year in the penitentiary and a fine of $500 each for conspiring to obstruct justice, are in the cells on Blackwell's Island, which they must occupy for at least ten months, even though their conduct meantime be exemplary. The sentences cannot be commuted further.

It may have seemed to the former police officials, accustomed to homage and courtesy because of the positions they held, that they had drunk to the bottom of the cup of degradation and sorrow when, for a week, they listened to the scathing arraignment of District Attorney Whitman and to-day heard the words which doomed them to prison life, its garb and its menial work. But if they had drunk before, they drained the dregs when Sheriff Julius Harburger escorted them from the Tombs on their trip to the penitentiary.

PLUCKY GIRL THROWS KNIFE AT ROBBER WHO POINTS PISTOL AT HER

He Fires One Shot and Then Beats Her With Butt—Quartet Arrested.

Susie, the seventeen-year-old daughter of Pasquale Latugie, a storekeeper at No. 218 Fulton street, Brooklyn, was alone in her father's place of business late this afternoon when four men entered. Two approached the counter and asked for cigars while the others remained at the door. As the girl reached for the cigars one of the men drew a revolver, pointed it at her head and ordered her to get from behind the counter.
She backed away and the other man who had entered the store jumped over the counter and started for the safe.

Susie kept on backing away until she reached a long, sharp cheese knife.
Picking this up she hurled it at the desperado with the gun. The blade grazed his arm, and in his excitement he pulled the trigger of his revolver, which went off with a noise that was heard a block away.

Knowing the shot would attract attention, the man with the revolver sprang at the girl, struck her several times on the head with the butt of the revolver and then fled with his complices. In the meantime Policeman Anthony Pasquale of the Liberty avenue station, who had been eating in his home next door, at No. 2492, had rushed to the street to investigate the pistol shot. He was just in time to nab all four of the men.

Miss Latugie identified them and Pasquale arrested them and took them to the Liberty avenue station. They refused to give their names.

One Firsthand Questioned.
SOFIA, May 9.—Bulgaria and Serbia have accepted Russian arbitration of their dispute.

The undersized Sheriff was in his glory, and he waved a revolver almost as big as himself as he waited in the yard of the Tombs for the convicted man to be led to the prison van which was to carry them on their journey. From the moment that he arrived at the Criminal Courts Building, at 3 o'clock, he showed by his manner and language that the task before him was eminently to his liking.

SHERIFF GIVES TERRIBLE WARNING TO HIS DEPUTIES.

"We are going to put these fellows on the island," he announced importantly to an assemblage of reporters, and then he called into the Sheriff's room his deputies, Humbert Fugazy, William Whis-man, Patrick Healy and Patrick Haley.
He made them line up against the wall like a file of soldiers and then shouted:

"Attention! There seems to me to be a tendency in some quarters to favor these men because they have been policemen. These men are criminals. They have been found guilty of an offense against the commonwealth of the city of New York, and I want to tell you men that if I catch you showing any favoritism to these ex-inspectors, it will not go well with you. And I am the Sheriff of this county."

Then, with his deputies at his heels, the Sheriff marched into the Tombs.
Murtha, who, by special permission of Justice Seabury, had been taken to Flatbush to visit his family—five of his young children are ill with the measles—had reached the Tombs an instant before, and at 3:30 o'clock he and the others were ushered into the prison yard, where the van was waiting.

It was remarked with astonishment that Murtha and Sweeney were handcuffed together and their hands of steel joined the wrists of Hussey and Thompson. Justice Seabury had ordered especially that handcuffs should not be used. Somebody spoke to the Sheriff about it and Harburger, swelling with pride, replied pompously:

"THEY'LL BE HANDCUFFED."

SHERIFF OVERRULES COURT.

"These men will not be treated by me differently from any other prisoners who may be placed in my care by the County of New York. They will be handcuffed. That's all there is to it!" He was about to continue when a newspaper man who had known the Sheriff when he was a Coroner, stepped close to him and, holding a pencil and notepad, asked him to sign a statement that "What's the name, please?"
The Sheriff, looking at the man, said:
